Gates, are constructing the headworks and intake on Canyon Creek about one-half mile above its mouth, and as soon as this work is completed, the digging of the ditch for the pipe-line to Dallas will begin.

Mr. Gates says that it is his intention to clear the right-of-way of timber, brush and logs along its entire length at once, and then to dig the ditch from Canyon Creek to the reservoir, one mile West of town. As soon as the ditch is completed, the pipe gang will begin at this end of the line and lay the conduit, flaishing London says she is not interested up at the point of intake. The following from an exchange will interest a small class of people, and, fortunately, the number in Polk county is small and growing smaller), who send away from home for their goods:

"Here is the experience of a farmer near Farmersville. Ten years ago he put an X mark on a silver dollar and came to town and spent it with a merchant. Before the year was out he got the marked dollar back for poultry and spent it with the home merchant. Four times in six years that dollar came home to him for produce and three other times he heard of it in the pockets of his neighbors. The last time he got it in change, nearly four years ago, he sent it to an eastern mail order firm that has amassed a Fully Thirty Million Pounds Will Be hundred million dollars by selling third rate goods at second rate prices.
